Subject: [EXTERNAL] County wildfire risk

Hello,

as you deal with the Covid 19 situation and the economic situation along with the everyday issues, I wanted to bring a new, informative website to your attention. It comes from the Forest Service with help of a couple of other organizations and it evaluates wildfire risk in every community across the country. <https://wildfirerisk.org/> The map and info for Ravalli county stunned me and if it's news to you, it might set you back a bit: <https://wildfire.risk.org/explore/0/30/30081/> It's certainly a call to greater action by all of us. And I'm guessing the insurance companies will get wise to the site and it will be economically crippling if they decide to deny coverage, based on the maps/charts, as they've done further west.

May this be helpful.
