Forest to Host Public Meeting on Climbing Management Plan

Hamilton, MT, October 14 — The Bitterroot National Forest will host a fourth public meeting on Wednesday, October 20th from 6:00-8:30 p.m. to share information regarding the development of a forest Climbing Management Plan (CMP). The virtual meeting will be held on Zoom. See below for instructions and a link to join the meeting. Similar public meetings (virtual) were held in June, July, and August.

In addition to the opportunity to learn about and participate in the process of developing a climbing plan, next week's meeting will cover the following agenda topics:

- ✓ Summarize what we heard at the last meeting regarding raptors and the Recreation Opportunity Spectrum (ROS) and its use for recreation planning
- ✓ Small group discussion on effectiveness of ROS being a zoning tool for different types of climbing activities on the forest
- ✓ Summarize small group discussions and wrap up

Earlier this year the forest published an interactive Story Map to provide an information hub for those interested in climbing management. The project included input from community members and represents the beginning of the process for a CMP. Once completed, the plan will describe the desired condition for responsible climbing activities across the forest, considering the need for maintaining recreation access while also providing for appropriate cultural and natural resource protections.
