Dear Montana Taxpayer:

Your local Department of Revenue field office is gathering income and expense information for commercial properties. This data will assist us in determining fair and equitable commercial property values for the 2023-2024 property valuation cycle.

We request your assistance with this task by voluntarily reporting your commercial property's income and expense information for years 2020 and 2021 online at MTRevenue.gov.

The geocode(s) for each of your commercial properties are printed on the back of this page. You will need them to complete the income and expense surveys online at MTRevenue.gov.

April 15, 2022, is the reporting deadline.

Why does the department need the information requested?

We combine the income and expense data you provide with the information provided by other taxpayers who own similar commercial properties. Collectively, this data helps us estimate typical income and expenses used to value your property.

Our request is part of the department's biennial process of collecting income and expense information from all commercial property owners.

All information you report will be kept confidential. Reporting your income and expense information is not required. However, if you do not provide this information, it may limit your ability to appeal the property value determined by the department for tax purposes.
(15-1-303, MCA)

Thank you for reporting by April 15, 2022.
