Subject: [EXTERNAL] Lolo to Florence Study, September 9

Hello,

The Montana Department of Transportation (MDT) and Robert Peccia & Associates (RPA) thank you for your interest and feedback thus far regarding the US 93, Lolo to Florence Corridor study.

The study has kicked off as of July 2022. Crew members have begun collecting crash and traffic data, conducting analysis, and taking field observations. In addition, an environmental evaluation is being completed. MDT and RPA recognize the challenges drivers, bicyclists, pedestrians, and wildlife face with growing traffic rates throughout the area and are working hard to gather real-time data.

MDT and RPA are grateful for your support and participation throughout the project. An open house will be held virtually and in-person in mid-October to provide an opportunity to chat with the project team and learn more about the study's progress. More details on this will be provided as the date approaches.

As the study progresses, the team is interested in gathering qualitative feedback on US 93 between Lolo and Florence from surrounding businesses, landowners, residents and stakeholders.

All comments received via email, phone and social media thus far have been recorded and read by the project leadership team.

If you have additional information or feedback to share and would like to meet virtually or in-person with the project team, please email me at becca@bigskypublicrelations.com by Wednesday, September 14, with your interest.

We want to hear from you to make this study as all-encompassing and productive as possible. If we have already been in communication regarding a meeting, please disregard this email.

Thank you,
Becca MacLean, on behalf of the Lolo to Florence Corridor Study Team
