Subject: [EXTERNAL] Lolo Plan Revision Summer Update **CORRECTION

**With great apologies, I had a typo on the date in the paragraph below.

Hello!

Summer is in full swing, and I hope this note finds you enjoying the season. Our team is reviewing the comments we received on the Draft Assessment and Potential Species of Conservation Concern lists and working on a Revised Assessment. Thank you for taking the time to share your interests, concerns, and information – we truly appreciate the time and effort folks put in to help us improve the Lolo Revision.

I want to remind you of the last couple of engagements planned for July. Tonight, July 26, we have an online Timber Resource Planning workshop. On July 31st, we will host a webinar which will focus on the elements of plan development. Based on your feedback, we are changing our webinar platform – you will be able to dialogue directly with us for questions and answers following the presentation.

Next, we are gearing up to host engagements in August to step into the plan development phase together! We will be offering workshops around the wild and scenic rivers and wilderness evaluations. You can find information on all of our engagements for August below and on the Web Hub. I hope you'll join me in looking forward to workshops on a broad spectrum of topics in September and October!

Lastly, I'll just share a reminder that we are continually updating our website with new content. This month you'll find a Forest Management button in the Key Resources area, where you will be able to find materials shared at the Timber Resource Planning workshop.

Thank you for your interest in the Lolo Revision. While summer is a busy time, I hope to see you at some of our upcoming engagements!

Amanda Milburn, Revision Team Leader
