Subject: EA comment period extended

In the Ravalli Republic newspaper today I read where the FAA extended the EA comment period to 25 Jul. Hopefully, that is 25 Jul 2014. I am really, really disappointed this has happened. I would like to know the justification of extending the comment period by the FAA. Surely, the ICAARE group is not calling the shots in the FAA like it appears they are. The excuse ICAARE didn't have time to review the EA doesn't hold water. Dennis Moore had time to compile and submit 26 pages of comments. Greg Raymond in the 27 Jun 2014 Ravalli Republic is complaining he didn't know about the EA comment period so he is asking for special consideration. My mom at 87 yrs old wrote a check for her license plate registration. What happened to that check and why she didn't get her current registration for that year is unknown. She was fined $50 for not having a current registration. She was held responsible for her own actions. Not Greg Raymond.
