

I am a pilot and regular user of Ravalli County airport and have various companies currently employing over 600 people, some of which are located in Darby and Victor. Ravalli county no longer has logging as a job provider and in today's economy the airport needs to replace the railroad tracks to bring jobs and dollars to the local area. At 3640 ft. elevation the airport runway is not long enough for safe operation, especially when wet or in warm weather. Therefore we are missing out on jobs and revenue because of our substandard airport. Clean and green higher paying jobs require modern transportation.
