

Glenda Wiles

From: Katrina Mendrey
Sent: Monday, September 8, 2014 4:32 PM
To: kmendrey@montana.edu
Subject: Introduction to Composting Workshop
Attachments: Introduction to Composting Workshop Sept 24.pdf

Hi All,

Please find a flier attached for an upcoming workshop hosted by Ravalli County MSU Extension Service on September 24th from 5-7pm at Homestead Organics in Hamilton. The class will cover the basics of composting and how to use the final product in your landscape. This will be a hands on workshop. Participants will build piles using various materials from around the farm. RSVP is required and space is limited to 20. Those interested can contact our office at 375-6611 or by email at ravalli@montana.edu for more information. A $10 fee is requested to cover class materials and farm fresh snacks provided by Homestead Organics.

Please pass this on to those you think might be interested.

Thanks!
Katrina

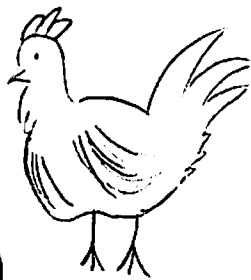

Katrina Mendrey
MSU Extension Agent

215 S. 4th St Suite G
Hamilton, MT 59840-2853
406-375-6611
www.msuextension.org

The Montana State University Extension is an ADA/EO/AA/Veteran's Preference Employer and Provider of Educational Outreach.

Introduction to Composting

Workshop

September 24th from 5pm-7pm

At Homestead Organics

Hosted by Ravalli County MSU Extension

Class will cover:

- The basics of compost science and decomposition
- What to compost and what not to compost
- Developing your own compost recipe
- Compost bin design
- How to use compost in your landscape

RSVP Required

Contact MSU Extension
at 375-6611 or

ravalli@montana.edu

$10 fee includes farm
fresh snacks and class
materials

