Hello,

Please do not allow construction in the Bitterroot flood fringe! This is a terrible idea. If you spend any time on the river you know how much its course changes every year. You might want to consider what's going to happen when these brand new homes get destroyed. You will look like fools for allowing them to be built. Most rivers don't change course as much as our beloved Bitterroot and home owners will have a false sense of security if our commissioners lead them to believe it's safe to build in the flood fringe. It is not.

Good luck,
Steve Grant
