

Glenda Wiles

From: jr ventures <jrventures@blackfoot.net>
Sent: Tuesday, February 17, 2015 5:57 PM
To: Doug Schallenberger; Ray Hawk; Greg Chilcott; J.R. Iman; Jeff Burrows
Subject: Ravalli Co. Budget vs CSKT Tribal Budget

This will blow you away

The 2012 CSKT (Flathead Indian Reservation) budget was close to $218 million (mostly taxpayers dollars funneled to them by 29 Federal agencies) for about 5200 tribal members living on the reservation. That is almost $42,000 per tribal member living on the reservation. Or $210,000 for a family of 5. Are you kidding me? Where does this money go? You can confirm at the below link. Pages 8 & 9
<http://www.cskt.org/gov/docs/2012AnnualReport.pdf>

Missoula County 2015 budget..."The total adopted budget is $126.6 million..."

http://missoulian.com/news/local/missoula-county-unanimously-approves-budget-includes-percent-tax-hike/article_bc5308dc-2e47-11e4-bd05-0019bb2963f4.html

The total Missoula County budget for 2015 is $126 million. This is for a population of 110,000 people. About $1145 per resident. $1145 vs $42,000 CSKT. What's wrong with this picture?

The last Lake County budget was $28 million for the 28,986 people living in Lake County, or about $970 per resident of Lake county. This year it will be less than $26 million I was just told. These are huge differences. $970 versus $42,000.

And they want to give the CSKT this water compact that will cost the taxpayers another $1.2 BILLION from the feds and $55

Million from the state - along with control of the water. Excuse me!!!! Wake up!!!