Just wanted to thank and congratulate you on doing the right thing for the county with the ban on fireworks. Most people will understand the wisdom of this decision and the rest of the Yahoos who give you grief are the exact type of person that this type of ban is necessary for. People do not need fireworks to be patriotic and they are not a necessity...keeping the area and homes from being torched by needless fires is much more important and will win you a lot of respect in the long run.

Thanks again
