

Glenda Wiles

From: Robert Casey <rcasey95@frontier.com>
Sent: Wednesday, June 14, 2017 6:44 PM
To: Glenda Wiles
Subject: Final, Final Draft: Counties being granted autonomy per Founding Fathers can pay the national debt.
Attachments: ACA&Decentral.docx

Dear County Commissioners, Treasurers and Assessors,

The West Virginia University professor that taught me these principle's for "Decentralizing the Administrative State" based on the ideals of the Founding Fathers insisted that one day the time would come when "We the People" would be forced to rise up in peaceful unity to save our Democratic Republic from being destroyed by debt. That time has surely come, but it is not only debt that threatens to destroy us. As thorough as the Founding Fathers were, we are still left with choosing between the lesser of two evils. Much the same way we were in the election, but one undeniable truth comes shining through. All is not lost, yet! Our leaders are fighting tooth and nail to get to the truth, but it has totally derailed the everyday business of the nation. An unprecedented set of circumstances has already brought people out to demand that if the Affordable Care Act is repealed it must be replaced with something better. The successful repeal of the ACA is, essentially, the deciding factor as to whether there can be any solution to the national debt that doesn't gut the programs that so many have come to rely on. What I was taught 40 years ago addresses all of these issues in a decisively stabilizing fashion. It is complex and confusing but by reading and rereading and discussing the details, anyone can grasp the effectiveness of this strategy. It gradually receded into my subconscious mind. When I heard the talk about "Deconstructing the Administrative State", it just washed over me like a nervous hot wave. Believe it, when I say, I have no idea what they are talking about, and I seriously doubt that it has anything at all to do with what I was taught, yet even that says to me, now is the time. Please evaluate how effective this could be in your county. If the results are positive, please print both this paper, and your findings and make them available to the people of your county. If it is negative, this can be resolved by the county.

Thank You,
Robert James Casey