Commissioners:

The new treasurer's managerial skills and ability to supervise staff were certainly highlighted this past Friday when she allowed any office staff person to take the day off if they so requested.

Let's see; from the vehicle side of the office the last day of the month is always the busiest day of the month. On the tax side of the office, the last day of November is traditionally the busiest day of the year, due to people waiting to pay their taxes at the last minute.

Counting the treasurer, four people showed up to work on Friday! You can't count the treasurer in this total though because she is not required nor able to man one of the windows. So that left the office with three people trying to handle the busiest day of the year.

The staff is working short-handed to begin with since no one has been hired to replace Linda Isaacs or JoAnne Johnson. The treasurer is attempting to cover this shortage with temps. No temps worked Friday!

Does it surprise you that tempers flared in the hallway Friday afternoon between customers? What a great place to work!
